

Preface

Many people made this conference and publication possible and we wish to thank them all. For essential funding, we owe deep gratitude to Riksbankens Jubileumsfond, The Royal Swedish Academy of Letters, History and Antiquities, Helge Ax:son Johnsons Stiftelse and the Friends of the Swedish Institute at Athens. The Italian School of Archaeology at Athens generously allowed us to use their facilities during the two stimulating September days in 2009. The staff of the Swedish Institute and its Director, Dr Ann-Louise Schallin, all contributed to the success of the event; we especially thank Mrs Bodil Nordström-Karydaki for sharing her experience and knowledge. Anton Bonnier kindly created the maps and Jan-nis Karydakis the book-cover, thank you for your excellent work. Finally, we express our gratitude to all participants and contributors: to all those who contributed to a most creative discussion during the conference and to the volume at hand.
